FLOODS SUBSIDING

RELIEF WORK AT DAYTON NOW PROGRESSING.

PROPERTY LOSS HEAVY

The One Bright Ray is That First Estimates of Loss of Life Were Much Too Large.

Flood waters receded sufficiently this morning to show that the number of persons drowned in all the affected cities in Ohio and Indiana may not exceed 500. While many persons are still missing to friends and relatives, investigations made to date indicate that many were safe who had been thought to be lost.

In Dayton careful estimates placed the number of deaths at 200 or fewer. Relief work went on rapidly in Dayton and all parts of the city were reached.

Columbus will have the next largest loss of life, sixty bodies having been found in the inundated portion of West Columbus.

Unverified figures for Miamisburg, O., give fifty dead, but in all other flooded cities the figures fell off rapidly as relief expeditions covered the ground.

Mount Vernon did not confirm its previous report of fifty dead and no confirmation was had of thirty-two reported drowned at Venice, O.

Chillicothe and Tiffin, O., where there had been reports of fifty or more dead, each had found eighteen corpses.

The best figures from Piqua give a death toll of fifty persons. Middle town and Fremont, O., each has 14 dead; Troy, 4; Massillon, 1, and Masonville, 4.

Indiana total drowned receded to fewer than fifty, distributed as follows: Peru, 20; Brookville, 16; Fort Wayne, 6; Terre Haute, 4. No bodies have been found in West Indianapolis, where at one time as many as 200 deaths were reported.

With the situation somewhat alleviated in the flood-swept districts of Ohio and Indiana a new menace threatened in the rise of rivers in the southern valleys of both states. At Cincinnati the Ohio swelled by its tributaries caused alarm and, although the situation had not yet reached an acute stage, reports from neighboring Kentucky towns indicated that warnings had been issued to the inhabitants to seek safety. At Covington, Ky., 500 houses are under water.

Death List Exaggerated.

South Dayton, O., March 29.—Dayton's loss of life probably will not exceed 200. This estimate is based upon a personal canvass of almost 100 of Dayton's leading citizens, men of unquestioned judgment and reliability, who have been engaged in relief and rescue work in every section of the city ever since the rising waters invaded the business section.

The property loss purely tangible and real will probably exceed $50,000,000. This includes damage to real estate and public works in those parts of the city where these forms of property are most valuable; to automobiles stored in two leading garages, and other personal property, much of which was owned by the more prosperous residents; to manufacturing, mercantile and jewelers' stocks, which were swept away, and to public utility plants and equipment. The cost of rebuilding miles of asphalt streets and walks, which literally were ripped from their beds, also is included.

Greatest Loss in North Dayton.

The loss of life was confined almost entirely to North Dayton, inhabited by foreigners and laborers. In West Dayton, which comprises districts of a more substantial character; in Riverdale, in Dayton View and other residence districts, there was almost no loss of life. Several lives are known to have been lost in the business district, but none of the rumors that human beings had perished in the fire which swept two city blocks would stand the test of searching investigation. In fact, a score of cool-headed men who were in some of the buildings, and others who watched the fire from across the street, assert positively that every occupant of the burned buildings escaped. The flood assumed dangerous aspects Tuesday morning, before most people had started to work. Consequently the loss of life in Riverdale, North Dayton and West Dayton was occasioned when dwellings, mostly of light construction, were swept away and shattered by the swiftly moving current, leaving the occupants, who had fled to safety in the second stories, to fight for their lives in the water.

There are not more than thirty much houses in Riverdale and possibly seventy-five in North and West Dayton. Many houses were moved from the foundations, but remained upright and their sheltered occupants remained until they were rescued.

Boatmen Searching Cities.

Members of the United States life-saving crew of Louisville, who navigated along sections of flooded Dayton heretofore unexplored, reported conditions in North Dayton and Riverdale (Continued on page 2)

A BEAUTIFUL SUITE OF ROOMS.

Intended to Make Everyone Wish for a "Home, Sweet Home" of His Own.

Price & McNeal, the South Main street furniture men, are arranging a very attractive suite of rooms over their store for the benefit of their patrons, who will be invited to use them for resting places when they so desire. Four rooms have been handsomely papered and furnished as parlor, sitting room, dining room and bedroom. They will serve the two-fold purpose of showing the handsome furniture they have for such apartments and for rest rooms. The rooms are not yet completely furnished, but will be in a few days. There is also a ladies' toilet room, where patrons from a distance may go and refresh themselves from a long ride. A piano will be placed in the parlor soon and blooming plants in the windows. In short, it is the intention of the proprietors to keep the rooms so attractive as to make all who see them wish to possess just such a looking home of their own.

WRIGHT FUNERAL FRIDAY.

Services Attended by Many Old Friends of the Family at the Home—Burial in Miriam Cemetery.

The funeral services for the late Mr. C. L. Wright were attended by many friends of the family at the Wright home, 209 North avenue, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. W. B. Christie of the M. E. church and Rev. J. D. Randolph of the Buchanan Street Methodist church. Dr. Christie gave a short discourse from the words found in Philippians 1:23—"For I am in a strait betwixt two; having a desire to depart and to be with Christ, which is far better." These words were among the many verses found marked in the Bible from which Mr. Wright read daily, and as he had often talked with his companion of the change that had been slowly and surely coming, when the way of this life should part them for a little while, the text was especially appropriate, and was a suitable theme for the closing of a life that had always been strong, gentle, true and good in every relation of his life, as son, as soldier, as husband, as father, as neighbor, friend and citizen, the life of an all-round Christian man.

Dr. Christie spoke with unusual feeling and appreciation during his discourse, as Mr. Wright was converted under his preaching in 1883 at the Morning View church, near Sweet Home, where Dr. Christie first began his work in the ministry.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Charles Thorp, Mrs. N. F. Humber, Mr. M. A. Peery and Mr. Glen Goff sang "Asleep in Jesus" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

Burial took place in Miriam cemetery. The pall bearers were Judge J. H. Saylor, Elias Orear, James N. Bryan, A. T. Stephenson, R. G. Allen and E. F. Wolfert.

The cause of Mr. Wright's death was kidney complications with pneumonia.

NORMAL'S CHOICE

REPRESENTATIVES CHOSEN FOR ORATORICAL CONTEST.

WILL SPEAK APRIL 15

Annual Washington-Lincoln Contest Between High School and Normal Again Exciting Interest.

In a preliminary contest held Friday evening at the Normal to select the Normal's representatives in the third annual Washington-Lincoln oratorical contest, Miss Myrtle McPherson was chosen for the Washington address and James A. Jones was selected to orate on Lincoln. The other contestants in the preliminary were Mrs. Myrtle Wells, Miss Stella Rogers, Eugene Bird and C. G. Harrell. The judges were Prof. Harry A. Miller, Prof. H. P. Swinehart and Prof. T. H. Cook.

The contestants who are to represent the high school were chosen some time ago. Miss Laura Craig will talk on Washington and George Crowson will be the Lincoln orator.

This oratorical contest, which will occur on the night of Tuesday, April 15, was instituted two years ago by the local chapters of the G. A. R. and the W. R. C. Two beautiful loving cups, one for the winner of the Lincoln contest and the other for the winner of the Washington contest, were presented the winners the first year of the contest, and these cups are kept at the school whose representative is declared the winner, until the next contest, when they are again contested for. In the 1912 contest each school won a cup, the Normal representative winning the Washington trophy, and the high school orator carrying away the honors in the Lincoln oration. In order that the contest may be on an equal basis, the Normal contestants are chosen from students who do not class higher than sophomores. The contests in the past have been occasions of great, yet friendly, rivalry between the two institutions, and this year's affair promises to be no exception to the rule.

ZANESVILLE IS HOPEFUL

Only Four Deaths Known and Communication Restored.

$8,000,000 PROPERTY LOSS.

City Has Been Endangered by Several Fires, Worst of Which is a Mule Barn, Where Considerable Carbide Was Stored.

Zanesville, O., March 29.—With communication being slowly restored, rumors are rife of loss of life, but there are only four known deaths in this city as a result of the flood. Practically all of the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth wards and a large portion of the Second and Tenth wards still are under ten to thirty feet of water and boats have not dared to brave the current. About half the entire city is still submerged.

The property loss in Zanesville is estimated at between $6,000,000 and $8,000,000. Water completely covers the "Y" bridge to a depth of fifteen feet and it cannot now be told whether it is still standing. The Sixth street Third street and a portion of the Monroe street bridges and two railroad bridges in the city are washed out and it is said not another bridge remains standing between this city and Marietta.

Ask Governor for $50,000.

Rufus C. Barton, president of the chamber of commerce, has asked Governor Cox for $50,000 to be used in alleviating distress.

National guardsmen from New Lexington and Lancaster have arrived with provisions, which are being distributed. Cold weather and lack of gas and coal add to the discomfort.

The city has been endangered by several fires, which died out of their own accord, as no fire fighting apparatus could approach the scenes of the conflagrations. The worst of these fires was at the old Burt mule barn where a carload of carbide was stored. At least 200 homes have floated down the rivers.

With the receding of the waters several buildings have collapsed, including the Munson Music company's building, in which 150 pianos from the more flooded districts were stored; the Indianapolis brewing plant and several small buildings.

Little Looting Reported.

Comparatively little looting has been reported and the city is under strict martial law.

Zanesville's 200,000 inhabitants, 10,000 of whom are homeless, saw the first gleam of hope since the flood in the Muskingum river swept through the city three days ago. Soldier reinforcements for the national guard on duty in the streets are entering the suburbs provisions have arrived to a point within four miles from the city and there are indications that the bitter cold of the last twenty-four hours was passing.

Electric light and water companies are still out of commission and will be for days. One small gas line is serving the city with a fitful supply of fuel and there is little, if any, coal available. Provisions are scarce, many families in the flooded sections being entirely without food.

MORE GUARDS ARE NEEDED

Vandals Try to Rob Homes in West Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, March 29.—Constantly tightening guard lines thrown about West Indianapolis are shutting out all persons from the flooded districts, but the state troops and local police are not in sufficient numbers to handle the situation, and Governor Ralston will attempt to have two additional companies of militia in the city by night.

Even refugees are being excluded from the flood districts of West Indianapolis until thorough organization can be completed to insure the exclusion of vandals.

Urges Quarantine for Colds.

London, March 29.—Professor Leon and Hill's dictum that the man with a bad cold should not be allowed to talk for fear of passing on his disease to others is supported by another prominent London physician. Addressing the teachers' conference, Professor Hill said: "It is an offense against society for any one with a cold to cough, sneeze, or even talk without covering his mouth with his handkerchief. I thoroughly agree that during the sneezing, coughing stage the person with a cold should be isolated, so that the germs he is constantly scattering may not be breathed in by his neighbors."

St. Louis, March 29.—Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson is being entertained at the home of James M. Sloan, 36 Washington terrace. She is the guest of Miss Lucia Sloan, who was her classmate at Goucher college, Baltimore. Miss Wilson arrived alone, coming direct from Washington. The special occasion for Miss Wilson's visit is a recital for the benefit of Goucher college endowment fund.

DEATH PENALTY PAID BY ALLENS

Floyd and Claude Executed at Richmond, Va.

ELEVENTH-HOUR APPEAL FAILS

Effort to Save Condemned Men Thwarted by Governor Mann Unexpectedly Returning to Virginia. Father Mutters a Prayer, Son Stoic.

Richmond, Va., March 29.—Mumbling a prayer and crying half audibly that he was ready to go, Floyd Allen, a lawless product of the Virginia mountains, whose refusal to accept a short prison term for a minor offense led to the wholesale court murder in Hillsville one year ago, limped to the death chair in the state penitentiary eleven minutes ahead of Claude Swanson Allen, his son.

The sentence of the court, held up for six hours while desperate and dramatic efforts were being made to save the condemned men by eleventh-hour appeals to Lieutenant Governor Eli son, speedily was ordered to proceed when Governor Mann hastened back to Virginia to take charge of the situation.

Father and son, occupying separate cells, heard the death warrants read a few minutes later. Tears were read in Floyd Allen's eyes as he looked upon his boy and there was a pathetic farewell as the old mountaineer was led away. Two minutes after he entered the death chamber the current was turned on.

When the prison surgeon announced that Floyd Allen was dead the body was hastily removed and the guards went back for Claude, who walked in briskly and with measured stride glancing coolly at the witnesses. There was less delay in arranging the straps for the second execution, one minute elapsing before the power was applied.

Floyd Allen was muttering a prayer as he was placed in the chair, but Claude was stoic. Rev. George W. McDaniel, spiritual adviser to the prisoners, had to be lifted into his car as he left the prison.

Mrs. Ben Yeager entertained the Dew Drop Inn club Wednesday afternoon. Owing to the stormy weather only Mrs. Oliver Jones and Mrs. Elmer Baker were present and no business was transacted. The Wage Earners' Banquet.

The Wage Earners' class of the Buchanan Street Methodist church Sunday school gave a delightful social time Friday evening in the church parlors to its wives and friends. This class, as you remember, was organized about two months ago and is composed entirely of men. Friday night was the time for its regular monthly social, and the men decided to prepare and serve lunch to their guests, which they did in the most approved manner. There were forty-five present. Old-fashioned games were played and everybody felt better for having given vent to the spirit of fun and play that is in us all, but which too often dies out as soon as the business affairs of life are taken up.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM Baking Powder

Purity in food, lower cost of living—these are the demands of the day.

Pure food is health, and health is economy itself. We cannot have health without healthful food.

The most healthful foods are the quickly raised flour foods—biscuit, cake, muffins, crusts and other pastry, when perfectly made from wholesome ingredients.

Dr. PRICE'S baking powder makes these foods in specially attractive, appetizing and wholesome form, and for both economic and hygienic reasons, such food should be more largely substituted for meat in the daily diet.

But bear in mind that alum, or unwholesome baking powder, can never make pure, wholesome food.

High School Notes

Ersel Carr, a member of the sophomore class has discontinued his studies for the rest of this term on account of an injury to his eye that he received about two weeks ago. He was working with a gasoline engine when a missile struck him in his eye and for a while it was thought he would lose his sight.

Assembly was called four times this week. Tuesday morning George Crowson read an account of President Wilson's inauguration, by Helen Keller; Wednesday the students had their singing day; Thursday Rev. Zentz, who is conducting a special service at the First Methodist church, gave a short talk. He took as his theme, "To attain greatness you must climb rather than stumble to it." His talk was very instructive and interesting, for in illustrating several of his thoughts he portrayed the lives of men who either were in their time, or are now, at the top of the ladder. Rev. Cox closed the period with several announcements in regard to the services being held at his church. Friday Miss Keller arranged the following program, which was devoted to American writers:

Reading, "One Hoss Shay," Holmes—Olivett Godsey.

Reading, "A Piece of Red Calico," Stockton—Paul Thompson.

Vocal quartet, "A Rainy Day," Longfellow—Amy Clark, Lucile Holmes, Marie Hopper and Ruby Irwin. May Lewis at the piano.

Brass quartet, (a) "Oh! Hemlock Tree; (b) "Stars of the Summer Night"—Hazel Vandervoort, Marie Shippis, Howard Leech and Walter Dersch.

As an encore to the last number the brass quartet played a number that was composed by Marie Shippis, entitled "The Chord That Made the Discord."

This week's visitors were Mr. Charles Kane and Mr. Winfred Hawkins, both of the state university.

The track team is still confined to indoor training, but if the present indications of the weather continue they expect to be on the road in full blast next week. A representative of the Tarkio college was here Wednesday afternoon in regard to the track meet which will be held at that place the Saturday following the meet here. He left a number of entry blanks and the high school is planning on sending part of its squad.

The two girls' teams played at the Normal gym last Thursday afternoon. Owing to the fact that the boys have not been able to get on the inside trail, the exact reason for their playing out there is not known, but it is supposed the crowds at the high school gym were so large that under the present conditions they could not accommodate all the fair rosters, therefore the journey to the Normal. Anyway, we were able to get the final score, which was 10 to 9 in favor of Nina Bent's team, and also several points in the play. It was learned through a loyal suffragette that at the end of the first half the score stood 5 to 0, with Mildred Hancock's team in the lead, but when the second half ended the score was tied, 7 to 7, so instead of playing the usual extra five minutes they decided to favor their admirers with another half, thus giving them a game and a half for the price of one. When the whistle blew ending the game the score was 10 to 9 in favor of the team chaperoned by Nina Bent. Another point that must not be omitted was that the victors were so taken up with their victory on a foreign court that in their excitement they went off and left Blanche Gray and all their gym togs. So rather than have her teammates make the extra trip out to the Normal, Blanche gathered them together and stowed them in a suit case which had all the resemblance of a miniature trunk when completed. She was seen about three hours later nearly exhausted, dragging the suit case down the street toward her home, for she could no longer carry it. Miss Ashby umpired and Geneva Wilfley was referee. The line-up:

Mildred Hancock and Brownie Helply, forwards; Mattie Clayton and Amy Clark, guards; Babe Holt and Greta Kemp, centers.

Nina Bent and Bijune Colden, forwards; Blanche Gray and Gladys Holt, guards; Vada Foland and Mary Gwinn, centers.

The advanced seniors entertained the beginning seniors last night in the halls of the high school. The evening was spent in games and music was furnished by an orchestra of six pieces. After the refreshments had been served the grand march was led by Miss Laura Craig and Mr. Walter Fraser, who are the presidents of the two classes. The halls were decorated with class pennants and the color scheme of blue and gold was carried throughout. Those present were Laura Craig, Edna Wilson, Laura Mitz, Ruth Reuillard, Cleo Lash, Kierker Sawyer, Edgar Hull, Goldie Roselton, June Jones, Francis Hahn, Hazel Vandervoort, Gladys Holt, Katherine Carpenter, Esther Roberts, Harold Staples, Ray McPherson, Ruby Curran, Edna Moore, Abner Johnson, Lois Farmer, Mabel Niel, George Wamsley, Neva Sage, Alice Barr, Harold Booth, Nelle Rigney, Walter Fraser, Marie Cain, Ernest Coler, Bessie Webster, Laurinda Craig, Halley Ford, Helen Wamsley, Martha Denny, Walter Dersch, Nellie Hallasey, Mabel Null, Harry Kissinger, Clara Kidder, Miss Keeler, Miss Thompson, Miss Hawkins, Miss Ashby, Mr. Westbrook and Mr. Hawkins.

The seniors have sent for samples of their class pins and invitations and expect to place the order within the next ten days.

Mr. Westbrook has a movement on foot to organize a "Poet ex quid" club, the English of which is "what after this?" A meeting for the purpose of organizing was called for last Friday but owing to the fact that a number of the prospective members could not meet then it was postponed until next Tuesday. This is a club for boys only and its object or aim is to make a study of situations, and in that way the student can so arrange his study in life and college so as to meet these demands and conditions.

Mrs. W. G. A. Edwards and daughter went to Atchison, Kan., Saturday morning for a few days' visit.

Miss Juanita Neal went to St. Joseph Thursday evening to spend a few days with her father, Henry B. Neal.

HER FRIEND'S GOOD ADVICE

The Results Made This Newburg Lady Glad She Followed Suggestion.

Newburg, Ala.—"For more than a year," writes Myrtle Cothrum, of this place, "I suffered with terrible pains in my back and head. I had a shallow complexion, and my face was covered with pimples. Our family doctor only gave me temporary relief."

A friend of mine advised me to try Cardui, so I began taking it, at once, and with the best results, for I was cured after taking two bottles. My mother and my aunt have also used Cardui and were greatly benefited.

I shall always praise Cardui to sick and suffering women. Cardui is a purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, tonic remedy for women, and will benefit young and old. Its ingredients are mild herbs, having a gentle, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui has helped a million women back to health and strength. Have you tried it? If not, please do. It may be just what you need.
